ACCU Appoints Director of Career Development Services

Cherry Hill, NJ - October 26, 2006 - Francine R. Sprinsky (Marlton) has been appointed the Director of Career Development for ACCU Staffing Services, announces Elaine Damm, ACCU Vice President.

Sprinsky, a former ACCU Recruitment Manager, has returned to the company to further develop and launch their Permanent Placement Division. In her new position, Sprinsky will oversee this division and create training programs to implement new procedures and encourage team building through a managed goal system.

After departing ACCU in 1997, Sprinsky entered the non-profit sector for Philadelphia's Workforce Development Corporation (formerly PIC) where she held rank as the Director of Employer Services for the Northwest CareerLink Comprehensive Center. She was responsible for directing the job placement and project placement functions within the agency and managed all departmental activities in a "One-Stop Center" which serviced adults, youth and dislocated populations. Sprinsky is also the former owner and corporate officer of a Mount Laurel professional placement firm that recruited local and national talent out of multiple locations in the late Eighties. "Fran (Sprinsky) has an extensive background in human resources and will be a great asset to our company," said Edward J. Damm, Executive Vice President. "We are very pleased to welcome her back to ACCU."

Recently named both the top staffing firm and women-owned business in New Jersey by NJ Biz Magazine, ACCU Staffing Services provides more than 30,000 employees annually to companies throughout South Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware. With over 20 branch and on-site locations, ACCU has met the demands of their extensive customer base for over 28 years, offering skilled, compliant workers to a wide range of specialties on a temporary, seasonal and full time basis. For more information on ACCU and the services they provide, please call (856) 482-2222.
